Stanford Youth Solutions

Permanent Family Connections Program
Program Logic Model (Youth Path)

Overarching Goal:
Stanford Youth Solutions’ Permanent Family Connections Program is designed to achieve permanency for children and youth who require either temporary or permanent out of home placement. Every youth served should either reunify with birth family or be placed with a family that will make a lifetime commitment to the child.

Participants

Stanford Youth Solutions
Program Director
Program Managers
Program Coordinators
Social Workers
Support Counselors
Family Visitation Specialist
Youth Advocate
Clinical Supervisor

Funding
CPS
Probation
Donors/Grants

Stakeholders
CPS
Probation
Service Providers

Clients
Foster Youth between the ages of 0 and 21

Assessments and Treatment Planning

Short Term
Accurate diagnosing and identification of service needs

Youth & Foster Family Matching

Client Involved Permanency Planning

Supervised Visits

Medium Term
Make progress towards permanency

Stabilize placements & develop permanency plans

Maintain connection with biological family as appropriate

Quarterly Reports

Crisis Intervention

Youth Advocacy

Behavioral Support

Consistent engagement in enrichment activities, skill building, and advocate on behalf of youth

Overall improvement in youth’s behavior and functioning

Quarterly Reports

Crisis Intervention

Youth Advocacy

Behavioral Support

Long Term
Reunification

Placement with Kin or Non-Relative extended Family Member (NREFM)

Guardianship

Adoption

Independent living with lifetime, permanent connections for transitional-aged youth

Foster and support long-term relationships that continue through adulthood.